

Script Writing.

Many years ago, the only way to communicate other than speaking, was to write someone a letter. Practice these letters in the space provided, and then neatly write your name on the old section of paper.

